Building on the wreckage of the defunct, but never-to-be-forgotten Pyramid Clubs, thousands of Greater Bostonians, both winners and losers in the recent springtime debacle, are now being invited at two dollars each, to recoup their fortunes by signing up as members of Pyramid's successor, "The Pin Money Club," it was revealed Tuesday night.

Posing as a "benevolent friend" of Pyramid Club losers and apparently burning with zeal to help them get back the green stuff they lost last March, is a middle-aged, dapper-dressed Brookline man who has successfully enlisted hundreds of residents of Arlington in the new scheme.

Spreading like wildfire, the "Pin Money Club" has swung from its starting point at Brookline, raced through Cambridge into Arlington and other suburban communities, with groups being formed all over Boston proper, all of its members bent upon cashing in — whether they won or lost the last time. To the hundreds in Arlington who have been drawn, like moths to a flame, to the fraternal and financial security of the "Pin Money Club," this "benevolent friend" issued cards of membership. The members sign the cards and pay two dollars, each getting two blank cards to "sell" to other housewives. In the case of the Arlington group, the reverse side of the membership card reads: "The initiation fee of two dollars will cover membership to date indicated below. At the meeting on this date, providing all old members have received at least one payment, the proceeds received from new members will be divided and distributed as "Pin Money," to all those present with the receipt date shown below."

"In the event all old members have not been paid by this date, 25 per cent of the receipts from each meeting will be used to continue payments until such time as is necessary to meet obligations to old members."

Dads Club Hears Judge Connolly

Last Tuesday night at the Arlington Boys' Club an attentive crowd of Fathers of Boys Club members listened with interest as Judge John J. Connolly of the Boston Juvenile Court gave a splendid talk on problems besetting the youngsters of today.

The sage counsel handed down by Justice Connolly emphasized the close alliance of parents and their children at every opportunity. The Dads of the Arlington Boys' Club were lauded for the interest they have manifested.

President Bill Bennett presented an excellent outline of why a Dads' Club has been formed and what it is trying to do to protect and promote the welfare of the whole community in its efforts to make a better Boys' Club in Arlington.

President Bennett pointed out that the National average per boy in 322 other clubs is $25.00 per year per boy member while the Arlington club is forced to carry out the same sort of program at a cost of less than $11.00 per boy member.

Special movies of Joe Louis and Maxie Baer were shown by Board Member Tom Rawson who offered a running commentary of the fighting styles of both boxers.

A tour of the building and inspection of the Boys Club facilities being used by the boys were followed by the serving of light refreshments.

Miss Tucker Bride In Arlington Church

One of the most delightful of the early fall weddings took place recently in St. John's Episcopal church, Arlington, when Miss Phyllis Tucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Tucker and Malcolm Munn Beers, son of Mrs. Phineas Beers of West Roxbury and the late Mr. Beers, exchanged marriage vows. Rev. Gardner Shattuck, of Trinity Church, officiated at the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Tucker wore white marquisette over white satin styled with illusion neckline, bertha embroidered in seed pearls and bouffant skirt. Embroidered illusion held her cathedral length veil of imported illusion and she carried cascading white orchids and stephanotis.

The coterie of attendants in white marquisette over Nile green taffeta included Miss Elizabeth Nicholson of Lynn, honor maid; and the Misses Katherine Mills of Wollaston and Anne Beers of West Roxbury. Miss Nicholson's picture hat was of primrose yellow and those of the bridesmaids matched their green underskirts. All carried cascades of gladioli blossoms.

Donald Colley of West Roxbury was best man for Mr. Beers whose ushers were the bride's brother, Charles Tucker, Ellsworth Grant of West Roxbury and William Martens of Winchester.

Following a reception at the Winchester Music Hall, the couple went to the Laurentian Mountains on their wedding trip. They will make their home in Brookline.

Mrs. Beers was graduated from Chandler School. Her husband is a Tufts College alumnus.

MAMMOTH INDOOR SPORTS CENTER OUTLINED AT RECENT HEARING

At a recent meeting of some 20 interested citizens held in the hearing room of the Robbins Town Hall plans for a mammoth indoor sports center, to be built on land adjacent to the Warren A. Peirce Stadium at the Arlington high school were outlined.

Among those attending the meeting were the owners of the land who propose to deed it as a gift to the town, should the latter decide to go through with the project, as well as representatives of the Town Finance Committee and Park Department, as well as of various veterans' organizations.

The hearing considered many phases of the proposed center and plans were discussed at considerable length and with much enthusiasm.

Previous to adjournment, the group was divided into several subcommittees, i. e., schools and parks, veterans' needs, engineering, legal and finance, etc., each committee to study in detail its particular phase of the project, for further

Local Commuters Affected By Abandonment Of Trains

The Boston and Maine Railroad received recent permission from the State Department of Public Utilities to abandon two round trips between Boston and Bedford, effective last Monday. It was voted to hold a public hearing on the matter shortly.

Lexington Selectmen protested the reduction, claiming that it would result in irreparable injury to residents of Lexington, Bedford and Arlington.

The railroad had notified the D. P. U. three weeks ago of its intention to cut off the trains.

The abandoned runs are trains which leave Bedford at 4:40 a.m., E. S. T., leaving Boston at 5:57 a.m., leaving Bedford at 6:25 p.m. and leaving Boston at 5:24 p.m. report at a general committee meeting to be held in mid-October. One important phase, considered was the possibility of setting up a Town commission to operate such a sports center and to supervise the rental of same.

Preliminary architects drawings of the proposed layout would call for an arena type brick building, with a seating capacity of 4500 and would include an ice skating rink for the use of the high school hockey team and the general public, an indoor track and basketball court.

The proposed center is proposed as a "living memorial to Arlington war heroes." At the front of the building, on Massachusetts avenue, would be the memorial hall and chapter rooms for various veteran organizations. The dressing rooms, showers and sanitary facilities would occupy the side of the building nearest to the football gridiron thus eliminating the building of a separate field house as at first proposed.

The extremely large seating capacity of the proposed building would be adequate for the large gatherings, concerts, expositions, etc., which would follow such athletic events.

In addition, the plot plan calls for a large parking area to take care of several hundred automobiles and would afford better access to Massachusetts avenue and Mill street.

The proposed site of the building would be approximately where the tennis courts are now located. The cost of such a sports center would be approximately one million dollars or more. The more definite figure cannot be determined until such time as the final plans and specifications are drawn up.

Naturally the project is arousing great enthusiasm and interest with the sports-minded citizens of the town as well as among the hockey-minded youth, who would greatly welcome a skating arena at home.

Miss Theresa O'Brien Bride Of Arlington Man

One of the most delightful of the early fall weddings was that of Miss Theresa Catherine O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. O'Brien, of this town, who recently became the bride of Mr. James Anthony Doherty, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Doherty of Arlington. The ceremony was performed in St. Agnes Church, with Rev. Justin C. Durocher as the officiating clergyman at the nuptial mass.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a bridal gown of ivory satin made with a cathedral train, with her long veil of French illusion caught to a tiara of orange blossoms. A prayerbook with a shower of white orchids and stephanotis completed her costume.

Mrs. ohn M. Mulcahy of Newton, as matron of honor for her sister, was gown in apple green satin and gold, and carried a cascade of yellow gladioli. The bridesmaids, Mrs. John P. O'Brien, Miss Patricia M. Hartley, Miss Catherine Coffey, Miss Mary Ahearn, Miss Mary Prior and Miss Ruth MacFadden of Arlington, were gown in gold satin with green accents and carried cascades of pale orchid gladioli.

Mr. John J. Doherty was best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. John P. O'Brien, Mr. Dana R. Hall, both of Arlington, Mr. Edward V. Bowler of Waltham, Mr. William C. Condon of Wareham, Mr. Wesley W. Parks of Malden and Mr. John M. Mulcahy of Newton.

A wedding reception was held in the ballroom of the Hotel Continental, Cambridge. Following a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will be pleased to receive their many friends at their home in Arlington.

The Red Cross Needs Motor Car Drivers

One of the busiest and most popular services of Red Cross is its Motor Service, according to Mrs. Nathaniel T. Worthen, chairman of Volunteer Services of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross.

Hundreds of phone calls a day come pouring into the Red Cross Motor Service office, all requests for transportation today, tomorrow or next week. Calls come from hospitals, clinics, social agencies, eye banks and blood centers.

There are requests to transport patients to and from hospitals, to take convalescing veterans and servicemen to ball games or to the theatre and to transport children to clinics for weekly treatments. These are but a few of the many demands upon Red Cross Motor Service.

"Now," says Mrs. Worthen, "the important thing is that we need more, many more volunteer drivers for Red Cross Motor Service. We must have them because the need is so great."

Red Cross station wagons, cars and trucks are remaining idle in the garage for want of experienced drivers, men or women and the tremendous number of calls for Red Cross Motor Service are continuing to pile up.

"Surely, there are men and women drivers in this town who have a few free hours, one morning or afternoon a week and who would be willing to volunteer for this indispensable service to their particular community," said Mrs. Worthen.

Plan to volunteer at once, you are needed. Call the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross at Kenmore 6-6226 and arrange for an interview as a volunteer Red Cross driver.

Rev. Father Francis X. Diskin officiated at the wedding ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was radiant in white marquisette over white taffeta, featuring a lace bertha and fingertip veil caught to a crown of seed pearls. A prayerbook with white orchids and stephanotis completed her costume.

Red Cross Has Jobs For Canteen Workers

"There are probably many women in this town who really enjoy cooking and working with food and those are the women we're looking for," said Mrs. Harold B. Richmond, chairman of the Canteen Service of the Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross.

This service must have many more volunteers if it is to continue to help out at local federal and military hospitals where volunteers prepare light refreshments for veterans' and servicemen's entertainments, stated Mrs. Richmond. Canteen volunteers are needed at blood donor centers where they are in charge of simple refreshments for blood donors and one of the most interesting projects in the Canteen Service is the meeting of DP ships on arrival at Commonwealth Pier. Volunteers are at dock side serving displaced persons their first cup of coffee or bottle of milk, doughnuts and cookies, in their new land.

The work isn't difficult, but it is important, for you'll be ready to serve in times of disaster. Only a few hours a day, one day a week is all that is required of this volunteer work and you will be taking part in an important community service.

The Boston Metropolitan Chapter of Red Cross is soon to offer a brief course in Canteen Service and the course will be offered free of charge. Plan to volunteer. Call KE 6-6226 or drop in at the Chapter Headquarters, 17 Gloucester street for further information.

I Wonder

I WONDER — How many folks have noticed the improvement in the triangle lot in front of the Nutcracker system in the last week or two. And who were the expert landscapers who did the job?

I WONDER — Who pumped up the tires of several cars belonging to a bridge group one night last week. The PRESS was informed that when the ladies broke up the evenings festivities, they found more than a half dozen flat tires on their cars parked outside.

I WONDER — Who won the free dinners at the Howard Johnson restaurant in the center during the recent Arlington days?

I WONDER — Just how tough that Waltham high club can get and if Coach Henry Toczylowski's boys didn't do a pretty good job last Saturday, everything considered?

I WONDER — If the Boston Red Sox might have tangled in the World Series with Brooklyn if Arlington Joe Coleman hadn't set the Yawkey men down four times during 1949?

I WONDER how soon that swell new parking lot on Mystic street will be ready. And just how much better the appearance of the entire center may be when this work is completed?

I WONDER — If Doc Beaton will really get us to one of those Boston Bruins hockey games during 1949 — 1950?

I WONDER — How many lovelies around town are missing that winning Irish smile and happy go lucky ways of our "Georgious George?"

I WONDER — Where David acquired the snappy sports tie he is flaunting these days. Could it have been one of the prizes in the recent Bargain Days contest?

UNBEATEN ARLINGTON BATTLES TO 13-6 WIN OVER WALTHAM

By FRANK MAHONEY

The triple threat of Paul Salisbury, Don O'Brien and Dick Mueller, led the much improved Arlington eleven to a 13-6 victory over the undefeated Waltham team before a capacity crowd of 6000 last Saturday afternoon.

In the opening minutes of the game, Salisbury took the ball on his own 36 yard line and the trio then went to work and moved the ball all the way to the Waltham 23. Salisbury then went thru R. G. for the all important first touchdown. Oppedisano then kicked the point and Arlington led 7-0.

A fumble by Arlington in the second period, opened the door for a Waltham tally. Waltham missed the point and Arlington still led by a score of 7-6. Arlington again started down the field but another rumble allowed Waltham control of the ball and they held it until the whistle blew for the half.

The third period opened with another strong drive by the Arlington eleven. Salisbury received on his own 18 yard line and the red and grey marched all the way down the field to the Waltham 20. The attempt at a second Arlington tally was spoiled by Beck when he knocked down a sure pass from O'Brien to Oppedisano, behind the goal line.

In the fourth quarter a tired and weary Waltham club made its strongest bid to win this ball game. Beck received the ball on his own 25 yard line and ran it back to his own 44. McCue passed to Beck and the ball ended up on the Arlington 31. McCue then paced the attack and took the ball all the way to the Arlington 11. A forward pass from Tarasi to Daddona was knocked down by Paul Salisbury and the all or nothing Waltham attack fizzled. A few minutes later a pass from Seglio to Daddona was intercepted by Arlington's Salisbury.

The Arlington trio, with the assistance of Dick Mueller, took the ball all the way to the Waltham four yard line and after two cracks at the line, smashed over with the second Arlington tally. The final whistle blew and the heavy, hard-hitting Arlington club had defeated the Waltham favorites by a score of 13 to 6.

The Arlington win should be credited to two 60 yard romps the last one being highlighted by a 30 yard run by Dick Mueller. So, in answer to Coach Toczylowski's statement that, "I have no one star," eleven stars showed him that Arlington is not to be counted out in the championship race this year.

Score by periods 1 2 3 4 Total
Arlington 7 0 0 6 13
Waltham 0 6 0 0 6
Touchdowns — Salisbury, McCue, O'Brien. Point after TD, Oppedisano.

Arlington Football Heroes

The season of the great national pastime has drawn to a close and all of the many baseball arguments are being slowly put in moth-balls for use next March. The Pro's are returning to their milk farms and tie stores, but meanwhile every college and high school in the country has been preparing to show its valiance of young stars to the versatile and sports-minded American public. So in keeping with the season I thought that it would be interesting to review a few of the past outstanding athletes of Arlington and see what they are doing today.

How many people remember that eventful day about five years ago, when the age old cheer of "Yeah Muz", "Yeah Muz", "Yeah Muz Assucco", echoed from the little stadium behind the high school? Well as to how many remember it, that's a tough question to answer, but I'll bet Mel Massucco remembers it, for it was he who splashed and crawled thru knee deep mud, all over the field, to bring victory to his alma-mater on that all-important Thanksgiving day.

Where is this great football star today? Well, like so many other AHS graduates he has gone on to college. Holy Cross is now the recipient of his marvelous ability. Although he has not yet had a chance to show what he's got, I'm sure that he will go on to be one of their all time greats.

The year 1940 and war clouds were looming around the corner, but no one paid any attention to that, for Coach Ostegran was putting out another great team as only Ostie could. Ostie produced some of the finest teams that Arlington ever had the occasion to put on the AHS star in 40, and he is still a star today. After his graduation, Art went into the service and upon his return, took up the books and the ball at Bates College, way up there in the State of Maine. Last year Art led Bates to its first bowl game in many years. Arthur was then elected to an honored position on the Bates All Time Team. A great achievement for a small town boy.

In 1942, sport pages of all the papers carried the name of Ike Bevins, another of the Ostegran School boys. Ike is now coach of the freshman squad here in Arlington and Captain of the Boston University Hockey squad.

This was the last year that sports had any meaning, for a war moved in and interrupted the schoolboy schedules. You know a lot of Arlington kids, who never carried a ball, played a game of life and death during this period, but they had a good coach who know how to call the plays, so with a few casualties here and there, they went on to win against a team that played very dirty. However, we took the bitter with the sweet and before you knew it along came another year with more sport heroes.

The year 1946 and a kid named Brud Faulkner, was smashing his way thru the opponents lines and earned himself the title of Boston Post All-scholastic. Brud graduated, took his turn in uniform and then returned to Boston U. With the University having its biggest year, and Brud being right there as a varsity back, it looks like they will go on to an undefeated season. Good luck to you Brud, a future B. U. star.

Following a rather orderly system of events, 1947 rolled out of the time machine and right with it came the names of Barbaggio, Sid Reare, and Kent. This was a quadruple threat in case you've never heard of one. Little Richie Raer was the sparkplug of the team this year and although they did not win the championship they sure made it tough for the team

Jr. Red Cross Sponsors Meet Oct. 19

Junior Red Cross teacher sponsors of Arlington schools will meet together with teacher sponsors of surrounding towns, on Wednesday, October 19th, in the library of the Woburn high school. This is an annual meeting, being held in Woburn for the first time.

The meeting will begin at 3:30 and the afternoon speaker will be J. Robert E. McCreech, director of Social Studies in the Pepperell high school, Pepperell, Mass.

Mrs. Raymond Morrill, chairman of Junior Red Cross in Arlington, announces that there will be an exhibition of Junior Red Cross projects with suggestions for this year's program at the Woburn meeting.

Arlington Man To Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hanson, of Lexington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Shirley Hanson, to Mr. William Urquhart of this town.

that did. Graduation came and went and Charles Kent, Troy Sider and Mr. Barbaggio took the short trek over to Boston U. Richie however had a mind of his own and went out the back door and took to the hills of Bates College up in Maine. If predictions are of any worth, this writer is of the opinion that Barbaggio will go to be one of the best guards that B. U. has had in some time. Best of Bloking to you all.

As for last year, well we can still hear the names ringing. So could Boston College for they signed up Dolan, McGrath, Emmons, Dorin and O'Brien. These lads are all over on the hill as members of the Frosh squad. Then there was Bob Salisbury who must have ducked when the B. C. scout was around, for he is up at Blair academy. These boys were all good in high school and we hope that they do as well in College ball.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION AIDS VETS IN INSURANCE PROBLEMS

Mr. Walter V. Robinson, Veterans Administration Insurance Officer for the Boston Regional Office 17 Court street, advises that GI special insurance dividend money, for which World War II veterans now are filing applications, may be used to pay National Service Life Insurance premiums in advance if veterans remit it to the Veterans Administration for that purpose, but the money cannot be transferred to the credit of veterans accounts automatically.

"Many veterans assume," said Mr. Robinson, "that the VA can transfer the special dividend payments to the credit of premium accounts as advance payment. Regulations do not permit this procedure. The VA is required to send direct to the veteran following receipt of his application, whatever sum is due him as a special insurance dividend. It is expected that mailing of checks will begin early in January. Then, of course, the veteran is entitled to spend the money as he pleases, and if he wishes to use some or all of it in paying his GI insurance premiums in advance that is his privilege. Incidentally, premiums paid in advance are discounted at the rate of 5 percent annually."

Mr. Robinson, urges that the veterans holding National Service Life Insurance consider their family circumstances carefully and select a mode of payment best suited to the beneficiaries' needs.

"A veteran should remember that his beneficiary may choose to receive G. I. insurance payments over a period of time longer than that specified by the insured, but not the other way around," Mr. Robinson said.

"For example," he added, "if a veteran specifies that his wife is to receive his insurance money in 240 monthly installments after his death and she requests a lump-sum payment to meet immediate expenses, her request for such payment cannot be granted. However, if the veteran anticipates that a lump-sum payment may be needed, he may specify that the entire amount of his insurance be paid in a lump sum or that a portion of the amount be paid in a lump sum and the remainder be paid in monthly installments. The period of time over which the insured specifies his insurance will be paid cannot be shortened, but the beneficiary can have this period of time extended. To illustrate, if the veteran specifies that his widow is to receive 120 monthly payments and later she prefers to stretch the insurance over a longer time, it is her privilege to change the mode of settlement accordingly."

Plan General Convention Of Episcopal Churches

The 1952 General Convention of the Episcopal church will be held in Boston, it was recently announced by James Morrison, of the convention bureau of the Boston Chamber of Commerce.

Morrison stated that the convention has accepted the invitation of Right Rev. Norman B. Nash through Rev. Henry McF. Ogilby, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Longwood.

The ten day meeting is expected to be attended by three hundred delegates from the Episcopal dioceses throughout the nation. The convention bureau believes that there will be more than twenty thousand persons, in addition to the delegates, who will attend the meetings of the various organizations of the church. The schedule will include mass meetings at Boston Garden and will be the first General Convention held in Boston since 1904.

Representative Joseph A. McAvoy, Jr., of Somerville, has been appointed by Speaker of the House of Representatives, Thomas P. O'Neill, to the Recess Commission authorized by Chapter 32, of the Acts and Resolves of 1948. Chapter 32 established "a special commission to investigate and study relative to high blood pressure, with a view of providing means for the control thereof."
